

Learning Collaborative Call for Applications

Capital Development Learning Collaborative - Early Project Planning Stages

Overview

The Capital Development Learning Collaborative - Early Project Planning Stages is the first of a two-part learning collaborative, with the first taking place from September to October 2023, and the second, Later Project Planning Stages, will run in spring 2024. This collaborative is designed to assist health centers that anticipate the need for a capital project during the next one to five years. The Learning Collaborative will provide practical direction and tools for planning, financing, and completing a capital project.

A learning collaborative is a dynamic, virtual peer exchange enabling dialogue among stakeholders pursuing similar objectives to explore promising best practices, solve challenging problems, and create new opportunities. Through a series of four weekly interactive learning sessions beginning Oct. 3, 2023, the Learning Collaborative will provide participating health centers guidance through multiple formats to help them properly prepare for and pursue capital projects that will better serve their communities. Benchmarks and resources, both publicly available and Capital Link-developed, will also be provided throughout the Collaborative.

The Learning Collaborative has two primary components:

- 1. Group Learning: Through a series of four virtual meetings conducted between September and October 2023, health centers will learn the basics of capital planning, financing, and project development. The sessions will be conducted via webinar and will be approximately one hour in length each.
- Individualized Planning Services: Each Learning Collaborative session will include exercises and planning templates that participants can adapt for their individual organization and projects. In addition, some individualized guidance from Capital Link consultants will be available to help participating health centers understand specific aspects of their project planning and financing.

Participation

Applications from interested health centers will need to be completed and returned by Friday, September 29, 2023.
